

Professor George Lewith Award 2025 open for submissions

The Research Council for Complementary Medicine (RCCM) Professor George Lewith Award is open for submissions until October 2025. This is an annual award for the best early career project that addresses RCCM's aim to "promote research that will widen the availability of and access to safe and effective complementary medicine for patients within the National Health Service in the UK."

The eligibility criteria are:

- Paying RCCM members are eligible to enter, as well as two from each RCCM corporate member (CNHC are corporate members so our registrants can apply).
- Students or early career researcher (up to 6 years post-PhD).
- Your project needs to have results. Protocols or plans are not eligible.

To submit your project for consideration, send an abstract to info@rccm.org.uk by 31 October 2025.

Latest updates from the ASA on advertising

The Advertising Standards Authority (ASA) have published two useful articles on their website that will be of interest to our registrants:

- A quick guide to changes to the misleading advertising rules
- "Write a useful article helping marketers with tips for using AI"

CNHC guidance for registrants

We take this opportunity to remind all our registrants that they must comply with the Committee of Advertising Practice (CAP) Non-Broadcast Code. To help our registrants with compliance we have produced guidance on advertising. Please read it in full and use it as a resource to check the content of your website and other forms of marketing.

Does your home insurance cover practising from home?

If you are a CNHC registrant and your practice is based in your home (whether you see your clients in-person or online), you are reminded to check your home insurance policy to make sure you it provides coverage. A registrant recently contacted us after his insurer withdrew cover for practising at home on renewal and he asked us to bring this to the attention of all our registrants. It's important to check what your insurance covers, especially when it is renewed.

Advertise your vacancies to CNHC registrants
